NEWARK CENTRAL SCHOOL
Newark, New York

Here comes the sun . . .

Only you and I can help the sun to rise each morning.
If we don't, it may drench itself out in sorrow.

—Joan Baez

I am a man, and nothing human can be of indifference to me.

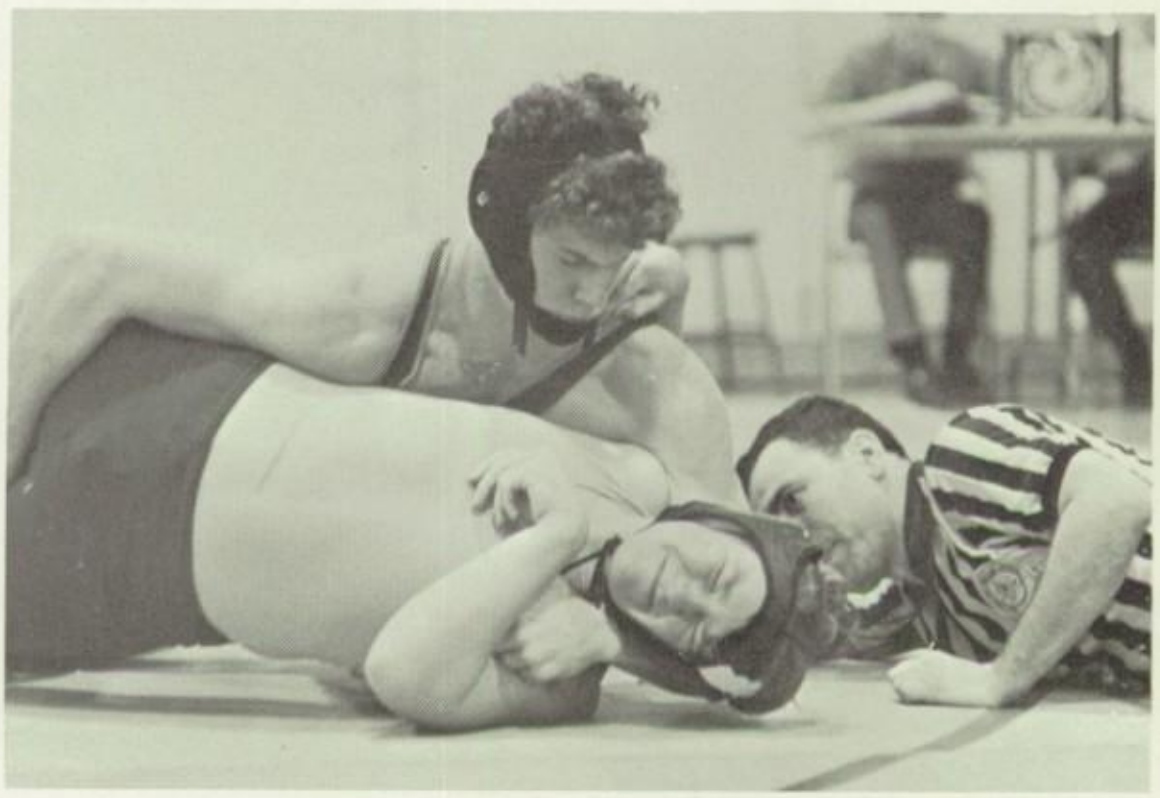
—Terence



To try may be to die
but not to care
is never to be born.

—William Redfield

If one advanced confidently in the direction of his dreams and endeavors to live
the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours.

–Henry David Thoreau

When through one man
a little more love and goodness, a little more light and truth
come into the world,
then that man's life has had meaning.

—Alfred Delp

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving.

—Oliver Wendell Holmes

Knowing is not enough;
we must apply.
Willing is not enough;
we must do.

–Goethe

A world full of happiness is not beyond human power to create; the obstacles are not insuperable. The real obstacles lie in the heart of man, and the cure for these is a firm hope, informed and fortified by thought.

—Bertrand Russell

If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be.
Now put the foundations under them.

–Henry David Thoreau

Peggy,

To bad you and I waren't on the same softball team. (school). You've been a good kid ever since I've known you. hun Don't forget the bathroom by Miss Sherman's room, and the trash can. Also the "Lolipop Kids song" and If I were the king." Don't forget the fun we've had this school year, Someday we will be able to umpire little league. Stay (out) of trouble. Have fun! [redacted] You have been a good old time pal, in our softball teams. Remember the Co-Piolts when we went there after softball games. We stopped at the ice-cream Stores after softball. Remember that catch you made in Left Field. You were blowing a bubble and you caught it backwards. Remember our name calling game. I'll see you during the summer, and Hope to see you in 9th grade. If I forget don't forget to remind me. Best wishes and good luck. Your friend always.

reflections

fifth grade

neatly tucked behind a desk in a chair I had to occupy and in clothes I had to wear I read in my textbook about how Columbus discovered America.

A little confused, I turned to a classmate who was staring blankly out the window, as if he'd left something out there but didn't quite know what it was or where to find it.
I interrupted him and asked,
"If Columbus discovered America, who on earth were the Indians?"
He turned toward me, still looking blank, and answered, "There is no America," and then turned his eyes back out the window.
Now even more confused, I didn't know if I agreed, but I did decide that America hadn't been discovered– only named by someone more confused than I.

twelfth grade

with a great distrust for textbooks growing heavy in my mind since those days in fifth grade, I sat at my desk, staring out the window and searching for America,
when a classmate turned toward me and said,
"I'm writing a history of the class of '71 and wondered if you had anything to say."

I turned my eyes indoors,
looked at him and said,
"There is no class of '71."
Looking confused, he finally decided that the class of '71,
like America,
had not yet been discovered.

I used to have this happy feeling about books and about knowledge, that there was nothing I couldn't learn, but now there are so many things I don't understand and don't know if I will ever be able to understand. So it seems I can't just study and figure out all the things I want to know, and that there are some problems people are supposed just to struggle with, just struggle until the struggling itself works its way into some kind of answer. Just struggle.

—William Butler

. . . I even think I see the birth of a real revolution, if our weapon remains the power of love . . . and if we keep doing it one day at a time.

To: Peg

Peg,

I hope you and your future boy-friend make it out all right. Just hope you don't see Mrs. Wick again ~~or~~ because you might get her mighty mad. Well you sure are a mighty pretty girl so I don't have to wish you luck with the boys cause you already are lucky with the boys. Well be nice to yourself and everyone else.
